ABOUT THE JOURNAL

The Journal of Global Economy (JGE) is a peer-reviewed, open access academic journal published by the Research Centre for Social Sciences (RCSS), India. The journal provides a platform for researchers, academicians, policymakers, and professionals to publish original research and analytical studies in the field of economics and allied social sciences.

The journal focuses on contemporary economic issues at both national and global levels. It publishes research articles, review papers, and policy-oriented studies covering areas such as economic development, international trade, public policy, business environment, agriculture, education, poverty, and globalization.

All manuscripts submitted to the journal undergo a rigorous peer-review process to ensure quality, originality, and academic integrity. Through this process, the journal maintains high scholarly standards and encourages meaningful contributions to economic research and policy discussions.

The Journal of Global Economy is published in both print and online formats with ISSN 0975-3931 (Print) and ISSN 2278-1277 (Online). As an open access journal, it provides free and unrestricted access to published research, enabling wider dissemination of knowledge and promoting academic exchange among scholars across the world.
